

Iron County Register.

VOLUME XIV. NUMBER 17.

IRONTON: Nov. 11, 1880.

Local Department.

Fresh Oysters at Osterle's, every day, by the can or dish.

With 175,000 popular majority, the Democratic party has to speed, after all. Northern prejudices and narrow votes may control things for a time, but they won't endure forever.

We suggest to the Ironton School Board the propriety of having a load of gravel hauled and dumped into the mudhole which bars the entrance to the school yard on the west side of the enclosure.

The new furnace at Pilot Knob is in blast, and working finely. The run is about sixteen tons in twenty-four hours, which is very good considering that the stack is not yet fully heated. It is said this furnace is one of the finest in the United States.

We understand that some of the boys have played a rather rough joke on one who was lately a citizen of the Valley. They made him believe that the grand jury was about to find a true bill against him for something, or other, and he 'doped' to Texas. Come back, David, come back! The wicked, only, flee when no man pursueth.

The Republicans have had their laugh at the Democratic defeat, but with some of them it was only a half-hearted laugh, after all. We allude to the anti-Grant Republicans who hold appointments under Hayes. The time for the Democrats to laugh at the dirt-eaters will come in next spring.

NOTICE.—Rev. L. M. Berry of North Missouri will preach in the Baptist Church, Thursday evening, November 11th, at 7 p. m. All are earnestly invited to attend. We have heard Bro. Berry preach several sermons, and we are sure if our friends knew his abilities and fame as a preacher they would not fail to come and hear him.

While it was raining down in the valley last Friday, huge snow flakes were falling on Shepherd Mountain. In the night the snow-storm became general, and four inches fell all over hill and dale. The ground was too warm to retain it, and by Saturday evening only a speck here and there in sheltered places showed that the "beautiful snow" had come and seen us.

We have received a specimen number of Happy Songs in 40 page manilla form, a music book for day schools, which certainly fills a real want. The paper and "get up" of the little book are first class. The music—well, we don't sing, but it looks bright and cheery. The words are not trashy. We think all teachers will find this little volume is just what they have long wanted. Send 10 cents for specimen copy to Thomas Kane & Co., 218 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

DEAR AKE NOV 7 1880
My Dear Brother Ake how do you feel now? What do you think of 329 now? I feel most glorious thank you for the two years ago that Iron County had come up smiling with six hundred majority. She comes up now with 330 majority how is Duolier Garfield with you now? Good by I have the very Great Honor to remain your humble servant.

[Bro. Remond must be on the war-path for the Des Arc post-office. Let the present incumbent beware his machinations.—Ed. Reg.]

Dr. May sends us a communication this week which contains several strictures upon the Democratic campaign, and a correction and a commendation for the Register. The correction is all right, and we thank him for his friendly word, for we do not know of anyone whose personal good-will we value more highly. But as regards the Chinese letter, we are firm in our belief that Garfield wrote it. It sounds like him, it is in his handwriting, and its sentiments are in exact accord with his course in Congress. As to the reminder of the Dr.'s article, we have nothing to say: if he wants to poke fun at us because of our "make up" at a time when we were at once land-surveyor, iron, election-cannasser, and generally "upset" besides, why, let him—let his privilege as a free and untrammelled American citizen.

An additional passenger train, north and south, was put on the road last Sunday. The day trains meet and pass at this place at 1:35 p. m., while the night train going south arrives at midnight, and the north bound train arrives at 3 a. m. These trains all run through to Texarkana, and there connect with other trains bound to all parts of Texas. Our people have been expecting this addition to the passenger facilities for some time, as the traffic has been so great as to give standing-room only to all who jumped aboard from way stations—the through passengers filling all the seats. In fact, for some months, the road has been compelled to run the passenger train in two sections to accommodate the travel. The new plan, while entailing not a great deal more expense to the road, is greatly preferred by all. It is probable that in a short time a mail-car will be attached to each of the new trains, giving us four mails—two north, and two south—per day.

The election is over, and for we one are heartily glad of it. It distracted all classes, and made the ordinary business of life a secondary consideration. Neighborhood feuds were envenomed, and for the time being political opponents could see only the less commendable traits of each other. We'll take a rest now until 1884, probably, for a State election does not usually stir up the public bile like unto that muddying of the waters made in a presidential contest. Though the election is over, we desire to acknowledge the generous assistance given the old-time Democracy of the county by the sturdy Democratic miners at Pilot Knob. They were outnumbered by the Republicans at that point, but they never wavered or flinched a particle. They were Hancock men, and were not backward in avowing their creed. May one and all of them live long and prosper, be the prayer of the Register. Our efforts to elect our candidate for President were not crowned with success; but Democracy and Democratic principles will live as long as the Republic stands. So long as our Pilot Knob friends are on this "vale of tears" they may be depended upon, and be confidently looked for on the right side of the question.

OBITUARY.

DIED.—At his home in Ironton, Mo., on Sunday morning, October 31st, 1880, JAMES A. GREGSON, aged 47 years, 11 months and 20 days.

Col. Gregson was born in New Market, York county, Pa., and was a graduate of Dickinson College, at Carlisle. He chose the law as his profession, and was admitted to the bar in the courts of Harrisburg in 1853. In 1853 he emigrated to Arkansas, and began practicing in the courts of that State. He returned to Pennsylvania the next year, and in 1855 was married to Miss D. C. Hammond, of Lewisburg, York county. In the spring of 1859 he again came west, locating at Perryville, Mo. When the war broke out, he did not hesitate to declare his adherence to the cause of the Union, and joined the army in the fall of 1861. He with his command remained in Camp Grason, at Perryville, until the fall of 1861, when he was ordered to the front at Fort Mifflin, where he was successively commissioned Lieutenant, Maj. r., and Lieutenant-Colonel. Part of the year 1863 he commanded the post of Jefferson Barracks. In 1863 he came to the Arcadia Valley, where he resided from that time until the day of his death.

Col. Gregson was a man of rare literary attainments, had thoroughly cultured in all the higher walks of life. At all times an ardent scholar, he labored diligently, and with rare faculty, in developing an intellect which, had it not been fettered with such physical weakness as to make life almost a burden, would have shone strongly in the western armament of letters. His writings for the press were characterized with unusual brilliancy, while the few verses he has made show talent and true poetic taste. Some years ago he wrote the favorite song, "On the Shores of the Smooth Lagoon," and later, "When the Clouds Go By." Both were set to music, and the latter song is a perfect gem.

We can scarcely realize that he is gone to return no more. For years we have watched for his ever welcome step, and it seems strange that his pleasant "Good morning" can never greet us more. Let him rest in peace! He was a kind neighbor, an affectionate friend, a good citizen, and a loving husband and father. He will rest in peace! For his earthly career was honest, just and true, and those things ought to ensure to him whatever good the hereafter may have for the mortals of a day.

To the bereaved widow and daughter we tender the condolence of a community which must feel his loss less than they.
